

2020 Church Council Nominees – four-year terms

Todd Lonorich

Making an impact is Todd's motivation to serve in youth ministry, small groups and Guest Experience. His favorite parts of Calvary's five-year vision are "No Inch Unused" and the formation of a satellite congregation. These vision goals are exciting to Todd because they are opportunities to leverage our resources to expand our reach for the sake of the mission to reach people for Christ. Todd manages a global IT team for General Mills. Family members: Kristin, Ann and Rachel.

Rachel Recknagel

As a mother of two young adults, Rachel's heart is in youth ministry. She has served on youth mission trips, retreats, as a WNL small group leader, in Guest Experience and as a Parish Nurse. She is most passionate about Calvary's goal of "No Kid Without 5 Adults on Their Team" and is working to make that happen as she invests in relationships with Calvary's youth. Rachel works as a registered nurse at Frauentshuh Cancer Center. Family members: Craig, Adam, Leah and mother, Sandy Miller.

Andy Roe

Worship and music are ministry areas that resonate with Andy, and he appreciates both traditional and modern worship. Andy also is passionate about the Bible and appreciates Calvary's commitment to teach and preach from God's Word. Calvary's goal of "No Hurdles to Hope" excites Andy because it reflects our mission to lead people to Jesus and shows we have the Father's heart for people inside, and outside our walls. Andy works as a civil engineer and technical writer for HNTB. Family members: Rhonda, Rachel, Rebecca, Josh and two granddaughters.

Julie Russo

Alpha is Julie's favorite ministry because she loves seeing people come to know Jesus for the first time or grow deeper in their faith. The most exciting part of Calvary's five-year vision is "No Hurdles to Hope" because she can't wait to see how we can reach more people for Christ and the hope that comes from that. Julie has served in NextGen as a teacher, as an Alpha leader and as the Co-chair of the Senior Pastor Call Committee. Julie works on the sales and service teams for BBC International. Family members: John, Laura, Jackie and Christie.

Gina Vander Werf

Seeing God work and changing lives through Alpha is where Gina loves to serve. Her faith was relit by participating in Alpha and she wants that for other people. "No Hurdles to Hope" is the part of Calvary's vision that is most exciting to her. As Calvary moves beyond the walls of the church, we can walk alongside and serve our neighbors and community, working for a larger purpose to accomplish God's mission. Gina works as a senior manager in Creative Operations at Best Buy Co. Family members: Ross and Knox.
